As I approach graduation as a frontend developer, I love solving problems and creating beautiful websites. I work well both independently and in a team, always contributing with a calm and positive attitude.

I enjoy discovering and learning new things. Driven by a deep curiosity, I am committed to continually expanding my knowledge of the tech world and eagerly looking forward to what lies ahead in this exciting journey.

EXPERIENCE

Internship

Nov 2023 - April 2024

Linespotting AB

Developing a website for a client.

We both are in charge of managing the entire website development process, from client communication, meeting the client's requirements, to delivering the final project. We also learned backend to implement it with this project, making the website more capable and user-friendly

Sales assistant

Jun 2021 - present

IKEA, Stockholm

Working as a bed specialist and wardrobe planner.

As a bed specialist, I assist customers in choosing the right mattress based on their ergonomics..

As a wardrobe planner, I help customers achieve an optimal wardrobe solution based on their measurements. Working for a major company like IKEA has truly challenged my previous experiences, as the customer demand is constantly high in the store. This has led to an improvement in my stress control and efficiency
